PA NEW OBSERVES

Because there is no branch of the National Association of Travelers Aid Societies in New Castle, the Young Men's Christian association has volunteered its services as a cooperating agency, and meets women and children at the railroad stations at the request of any Travelers Aid in the United States—and says that they reach the homes of friends.

PA News is of the opinion that some action should be taken which would provide for fitting up the public tennis courts on Boyles field. The courts were opened last summer and were used all day long for many weeks. So far this year the nets have not been placed and tennis enthusiasts have been unable to use them. A crowd of boys has been playing baseball on the courts this season.

Special street car service to and from the circus on Saturday night was certainly 100 per cent perfect—there wasn't any. When the circus was out there was but one street car on Mahoning avenue to take any of the crowd home that desired to board a street car, and it was the regular car in service from the seventh ward to New Castle.

PA News saw a couple riding home from church on the Volant road on Sunday in a buggy that was popular.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., June 2.—Read the new census. Talk about putting a quota on immigration, why the Yankees are swarming into the south like locusts.

Get some of these gains: Houston, Tex., Jesse Jones showed a gain of 110 per cent, best bet in the south; Atlanta, 73 per cent gain, will be Houston's nearest rival in twenty years; Miami 273 per cent; Oklahoma City, 100 per cent; Anson Carterville (registered under the post office name of Fort Worth), away over 100 per cent; Tulsa, 95 per cent; Birmingham, 44; Memphis, 55; San Antonio, 57, and the Carolinas just packed 'em in.

Only one drawback, the rascals bring their Republican politics with 'em, they ought to be met at the line and de-loused.

Will Rogers.

Goods Stored In Barn Destroyed

Blaze Early Sunday Morning Causes Damage Of $1,500; Two Other Alarms Answered

Fire at 2:35 Sunday morning caused damage of $1,500 when flames broke out in a barn on the rear of the property occupied by Frank Robinson of 417 Court street.

The structure was used for storage purposes by Mr. Robinson and by Frank and Ralph Shiner, owners of the property. Damage to the structure was estimated at $500, while that on the contents at $1,000, partly covered by insurance.

Two other alarms were answered Sunday by local departments, the damage in both instances being slight.

At 5:30 Sunday morning, firemen were called to 1121 Sciota street by an alarm from box 53. Louis Sherer operates a harness shop in a one-story frame structure there in which Tom Gardner, colored, has been sleeping. It is believed that Gardner went to bed and allowed a lighted cigarette to lie on top of a box, resulting in the place taking fire. Damage of approximately $50 was done.

At 4:40 Sunday afternoon, firemen were called to 217 East Long avenue, where boys smoking in a coal shed, dropped a match into a pile of burlap sacks, setting them on fire. The blaze had been extinguished by use of a garden hose by the time firemen arrived on the scene.

LEADERS HOPE TO GET TARIFF BILL THROUGH JUNE 16

that the provision would give the President power to proclaim such changes at his leisure, holding them up for a year or promulgating them at once, that provoked considerable opposition.

The section also contained provisions eliminating the export duty on farm relief from the bill, eliminating all duties on silver, fixing a rate of $1.00 per thousand feet on soft wood lumber and abandoning the Blease amendment, admitting cement duty free if used for public construction. Administration leaders declared this section of the report would be approved "in a day or two."

Very Close Vote

Their hope of passing the bill through the Senate rested chiefly on the fact that the Senate voted to release its conferees from "standing pat" on the original debenture and flexible provisions. After repealing the flexible clause by a vote of 47 to 42, the Senate turned around and voted, 43 to 42, with the aid of Vice President Curtis, to release its conferees from that repeal. The debenture was adopted originally by a vote of 42 to 34, but the Senate later changed its mind and voted 43 to 41, in effect, to strike it from the bill.

The two votes indicated the Senate's final vote on the bill itself will be very close, but even a tie vote would pass the measure, since Vice President Curtis would break that tie as he did on the flexible provision. In the House there will be no such trouble, although the Democrats will stir up hostilities by demanding further changes in the bill. Administration leaders said all such proposals would be defeated and the bill "passed very quickly."

Once the tariff is enacted, if it is, the Senate must approve the $300,000,000 rivers and harbors bill. Then Congress will adjourn and the Senate reconvene in special session to ratify the London naval treaty.

Why not arrange for a firemen's demonstration on the public square next week as a feature of the convention entertainment program? It was done in the days of horse driven apparatus, and it seems it would be much easier now with all departments motorized. There's something that gives a thrill in the demonstrations, and it might add a little to the convention program in a dull moment.

Work of finishing up the grading along the paving on the New Castle to Volant road is being done. This highway will be wider than most of the improved roads in this section. And by the way, Volant or the county should take some action to have that little strip of road from the end of the concrete to the village of Volant improved before next fall and winter. There is a quarter mile or more that is not improved.

Plan to decorate your premises, your home, your building next week for the farwell convention of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations. New Castle should be a riot of color. Not a building in the city but should display the national colors. Get in line!

Churches of New Castle expect to have at least 4000 persons in attendance at the union mass meeting in the cathedral on next Sunday evening, celebrating the 1900th anniversary of Pentecost. It's the biggest community church effort that has been attempted here in many years.

New Castle is now observing daylight savings time and will continue to observe that schedule during June, July and August. The schools, which will close this week, have not changed to daylight time, but are observing eastern standard.

SENIORS HEAR BACCALAUREATE

ed by Melvin Moorehouse, president of the class. The 206 seniors followed in alphabetical order.

Once the graduates had reached their places, the Rev. David D. Sleppy pastor of the Mahoning M. E. church arose, and with the graduating class standing, offered the invocation.

Chorus Sings

Immediately following the invocation a selection entitled "Praise Ye the Name of the Lord," was sung by the senior high school chorus composed of senior girls and boys, with Miss Mary Long, vocal instructor of the high school directing.

The scripture was then read by Rev. Sleppy, with the reading being taken from portions of Ecclesiastics, Corinthians and Philippians. Rev. Sleppy then offered a fervent prayer when he had concluded the reading.

The girls' sextet of the chorus then contributed a beautiful number, a prayer from Maensel and Gretel.

At the outset of the baccalaureate address, Rev. Maxwell said the occasion reminded him of a dramatic scene from one of Shakespeare's play "The Merchant of Venice." The scene is where Portia, a rich heiress, confronted each one of her suitors with three caskets, one gold, one silver, and the other lead. In one casket lies Portia's picture, and the suitor who makes that casket his choice will win the rich and beautiful heiress.

So Rev. Maxwell likened this to the graduating class, and said "Tonight I see in each of you a suitor standing before Life—Life a rich and beautiful being, summing up in herself success, joy, happiness and satisfaction. Like loyal suitors, you long to win her for yourself. And life, like Portia in the play, sets before you three caskets, and says, 'Choose!' Two caskets are fair to look upon but give only disappointment and emptiness. The other holds success, happiness and satisfaction."

Three Caskets

"The first," Rev. Maxwell said, "is the casket of gold, the casket which those who want possessions will choose." Your dominating motive will be to get, to gain, to acquire. You will think that every digit added to your bank account means more satisfaction, and will work for digits.

"The second, the casket of pleasure. Your idea may be, with thousands of others, that satisfaction comes in enjoying."

Then Rex Maxwell quoted from the scriptures the testimony of the rich man who tore down his barns and builded greater, then said to himself: "Soul thou hast much goods laid up for many days. Take them ease, eat drink and be merry. God said to him 'Thou Fool!'"

Fun in Creating

Then the third casket, the third possible motive which you may choose—the God-given purpose of life—What is it? The creative casket, or the creating of something worthwhile. "Oh, my young friends, may you learn that the greatest fun in life is creating something. Take the hint from the child at play." And then, speaking to the class, Dr. Maxwell advised "don't take the first job because it is easy, or because it gives you a good wage or salary. Plan for a vocation, prepare for a life task which is gloriously creative. Ask of your prospective job not 'Are you easy?' 'Are you remunerative?' but will you give me opportunity to accomplish a worth while thing?"

Supreme Task

"And in closing, the greatest creative task is the creation of your own character. It is your supreme task. What does it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul. You may build a railroad, and lose your own soul; win a naval battle and lose in the battle of life."

The sermon was a deeply inspirational one and marked with lasting impressiveness.

Another number, "Pilgrim's Chorus" was sung by the senior chorus at the conclusion of the sermon, after which Rev. Sleppy pronounced the benediction. The audience remained seated until the graduates had passed out of the auditorium.

Playing at different intervals throughout the evening was the senior high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. J. S. Replogle.

Members of the high school choir were as follows:

Soprano—Eleanor Brudin, Rose Gillett, Irene Harry, Louise Horner, Roberta Sedgwick, Jean Twaddle.

Alto—Anna Connors, Dorothy Jenkins, Helen Montgomery, Marguerite Mullen, Virginia Simpson, Maxine Swift.

Tenor—Domenick Isolda, Joseph Lockley, Charles Mcullen, Harry Powell, David Sleppy, Harold Ziegler.

Bass—Gerald Allen, John Brincko, Charles Harbison, Lawrence Martin, Reed Walker, Henry Wyman, Harry Wyman.

STAR LORE LOCATION OF THE SOLAR SPHERE

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

The summer solstice (sol—sun and sto—stand) is in the constellation Gemini. That is the sun's position in the heavens June 21, has reached its most distant point north of the equator where it stands and turns back toward the south. Owing to the precession of the equinox, the signs of the zodiac slip to the westward thru the zodiacal constellations. At the present time the sign Cancer is in the constellation Gemini. The imaginary earth circle 23½ degrees north of the equator, is called Tropic of Cancer, because the sun is in the sign Cancer when it reaches its most northern declination June 21.

FUND COMMITTEE RESUMES PROBE INTO EXPENSES

$332,000 already expended with some bills still due.

Samuel M. Vaulain, state treasurer of the Brown-Davis campaign and chairman of the board of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, testified he received $131,287 in contributions and spent as of May 29, $129,693.

Of the money Vaulain received $5,524 from Brown, which was listed as "miscellaneous cash."

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon gave $5,000 as did R. Q. and W. L. Mellon, to the Davis-Brown campaign according to the list of contributors that Vaulain submitted.

William S. Vane, Philadelphia Republican leader, also contributed $5,000.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Summoning leading Pennsylvania Republicans to the witness stand, the senate campaign fund committee today resumed its inquiry into expenditures in the recent victory of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis over Senator Joseph R. Grundy for the Keystone state's Republican senatorial nomination.

J. Hampton Moore, former mayor of Philadelphia; Samuel Vaulain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, and Joseph G. Armstrong, Pittsburgh leader, headed the list of witnesses. All were supporters of the ticket headed by Davis and Francis Shunk Brown, who was defeated for the nomination for governor.

Witnesses Called.

Others called included James M. Hazlett, chairman of the Republican city committee of Philadelphia; Dr. F. H. Fredericks, treasurer of the Davis-Brown committee in Allegheny county; Robert Quigley of Philadelphia, state treasurer of the same ticket, and Wayne Blakely of Franklin, Pa.

At the first hearing, the committee developed that Davis reported spending about $200,000, half of which was contributions which he turned over to the state committee. Grundy sold of spending about $332,000 in about two-thirds of the state. His accounts did not cover 30 counties. With this information at hand, the committee decided to delve into local expenditures in behalf of both candidates.

Since Davis won the nomination, his campaign will receive the closest scrutiny. In 1926, a similar committee probed expenditures in the victory of William S. Vane and that inquiry finally led to Vane's exclusion from the senate.

MR. FORD'S VIEW ON CROP SURPLUS

HENRY FORD believes quantity production in agriculture will mean as much for the farmer as quantity production of manufacturers has meant for modern prosperity. He would have the soil yield its maximum. Asked whether the scheme would not mean surplus and waste, he replied that surplus is the starting point of new uses. Corn today, he remarked, has industrial uses apart from its food value. Chemistry is unlocking secrets that will benefit the future. As machines perform the work of men, more men will be needed to build the machines.

Meanwhile an expert in the Department of Agriculture finds our crop increase greater than our population increase. It gained 14 per cent, in the five years subsequent to 1921, over the yield for the five previous years. In the same periods the human increment was less than nine per cent. After reaching a mark of 100,000,000 he expects the American population to remain stationary. To support the new multitude 100,000,000 acres of arable land are available.

Attempts to refute prophecy in advance of fulfillment often prove rash. But many will feel averse the Philadelphia Inquirer that Mr. Ford's views are at variance with their own experience and observation, as well as with the theory of conservationists. We have been told that curtailment is the desirable policy for agriculture. If the future should vindicate the new suggestion, we shall have to revise an old saw to read: Surplus is the mother of invention.

THE UNIVERSE EXPANDS

When the ancients conceived the notion of building the Tower of Babel, they doubtless thought a structure a mere mile or so high would touch the roof of the heavens. They had no telescopes or astronomical science to give proper perspective to the interstellar spaces.

For the same reason the world believed for many centuries that the earth was the center of the universe. Later, it accepted the Copernican theory that the sun was the center of motion of the earth and other planets. Now comes Dr. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer, with the announcement that the center of the galaxy of stars, suns and nebulæ in which terra firma has an infinitesimal toehold has been located in the Milky Way at a distance of 47,000 light years. Finally, he is hunting with telescopes and cameras for a general and still more distant hub around which the whole humanly comprehensible universe of stars, planets and nebulæ revolves.

How the heavens have grown and how tiny the earth has become! Likewise, how lucky is Dr. Shapley to be living in this relatively broad-minded and tolerant age. As late as 1633 Galileo was forced to abjure publicly the Copernican theory. But today the astronomers are perfectly safe in letting their thoughts and telescopic eyes "float out across the cosmic reaches to where Canopus swims." The world no longer tortures astronomical "heretics" or burns witches and religious dissenters. Pioneers of all kinds are allowed a freer hand than ever before in human history. Perhaps it is not too much to hope that a time may come when the mass of the people will even regard new ideas about politics, literature, art and social relationships as something less than "heresy."

A START IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION

By passing the O'Connell bill, which cuts the passport fee from $10 to $5 and allows two renewals of two years at $2, the house has made a start in lifting a needless burden from travellers. Even now the terms are far less liberal than in Great Britain, where a passport is good for five years and is renewable for five years more at an annual payment of a shilling. Nevertheless, the bill makes the cost of a passport, used for six years, $9 instead of $30. With practically every nation but Great Britain reducing visa fees to nominal sums or cutting out visas altogether, and reducing or eliminating port dues, we are slowly getting nearer to pre-war conditions.

Unless the pressure of the steamship companies, the railways and the hotels becomes too great, the British visa fee of $10 may be retained at least while taxation bears so heavily upon the people. A Chancellor of the Exchequer would find it hard to forego any reasonable source of income. There is less excuse for the tax of $5 which the United States levies upon steamship tickets. Nor should the passport fee remain indefinitely at $5, if the senate passes the house bill. It should be a nominal sum, say $1, like a copyright fee. Charges of this sort were never intended in the first place to be taxes.

However, the concession offered by the house bill will be welcome to thousands of travellers whose expenses have of late been so needlessly increased. We hope that the senate will not discover it is undesirable for anyone to go abroad.

A GESTURE OF AMITY

In 1924 congress at the insistence of the Pacific coast and against the vigorous protests of the state department enacted the Japanese exclusion measure. Japan, officially and unofficially, protested and has been protesting ever since, former Ambassador Mesanoh Hanihara only the other day referring to the still burning Japanese resentment over "the unsolved question arising from the American legislative act of 1924."

Japan has never, and is not now, asking that the United States throw open its doors to unrestricted immigration from Asia. It would be content with a quota, no matter how low, and would be satisfied with total exclusion if it applied to all nations alike. It is the discrimination that hurts the pride of a great and honorable people.

There is a possibility that congress will soon make amends. Chairman Johnson, of the house immigration and naturalization committee, author of the law of 1924, proposes that Japan be given its proportionate quota, and there seems to be no valid objection to such a plan for it would admit but a handful each year.

While the proposed change will open to but few Japanese such opportunities as America offers, it will be important as a propitiatory and conciliatory gesture which should contribute to the amity and good will on the Pacific.

For 52 More Planes, Much Thanks.
 The Mothers Return.
 North Pole Submarine.
 Morrow Not Spending.

R- ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
 (Copyright, 1930, King Features

Good News announces navy contracts for 52 fighting planes, torpedo and bombing aircrafts. They will cost for the 52 ships $5,000,177.

For the price of one modern battleship, with coalers and other equipment, the Navy could buy 1,040 such fighting planes. Altogether they would require crews smaller than one battleship crew and would cost far less in upkeep than one battleship.

And one such bombing plane could sink any battleship or other ship afloat.

This nation needs at the least an air fleet of 5,000 fighting planes, with an adequate fleet under water.

Peshawar is a long way from Buckingham Palace, and once it would have been painful, slow work, subduing natives in the far-off valley. But now, the dull thud of exploding Royal Air Force bombs is heard in the hiding places of Haji and his Mohammedan tribesmen, rebelling against Britain. And Haji's forces are melting away.

Allah and his prophet are great, but they offer no weapon to fight flying machines.

If bombing planes can hunt out scattered tribesmen in far-off mountains and valleys, what would such planes, with bombs and poison gas, do in great cities, where millions of men and billions of dollars are packed close together, offering such easy marks?

What a surprise for some of us, if suddenly, some foreign powers should decide to treat one of our great cities as Britain is treating the fierce Mohammedan tribes and gentle Hindus.

It could be done. We are not protected against it.

The first party of 127 Gold Star Mothers, having seen the graves of their dead sons are on their way home.

They were too early for the poppies about which pretty war poems were written, but they saw the white crosses, row on row, each marking the grave of a dead American soldier.

The movement that sends them abroad to visit graves should reserve to itself the right to send other young Americans abroad to be killed.

It should not leave that question to the discretion of any League of Nations, or World Court.

And it should decide for itself what defense, ships, airplanes, submarines, this nation needs and not leave that question to Britain and Japan. That has been recently done, ignoring the advice and warnings of our highest naval officers, in deference to the wishes of Anglo-manufacturers in office and financiers engaged in international transactions.

President Hoover and the Navy Department are to be congratulated on the decision to allow our submarine O-12 to take part in Sir Hubert Wilkins' work of exploration in the Arctic.

Eventually, our fleet of submarines will be made useful in peace, through exploration of the oceans, seas, lakes and land under the sea.

Engineers and surveyors will map out the mountains and valleys lying under the oceans.

And the future will see submarine prospectors searching for mines and oil wells below the water, competing with modern prospectors now searching for treasure and oil for nations by airplanes.

Those that should know report Dwight Morrow is not spending any money "worth while" in his senatorial campaign. And those that should know are disgusted. They are politicians convinced that an ambitious rich man, whatever his personal fitness, should buy his Senate seat.

The other candidates, it is said is spending most satisfactorily.

If Mr. Morrow should be elected, it would show that a man can carry New Jersey without "taking care" of the practical politicians.

CHAMPIONS
 There is always another following on to take the place of the champion. Ever and over a step behind. The leader proud, if you look, you'll find
 An eager heart and a flashing eye
 Whose day of triumph is drawing nigh.

Brief at best is the longest reign.
 The crown is won but to lose again.
 This is the law for us all who live:
 Who takes from another in turn shall give.
 For the joy of triumph however sweet
 Carries the seeds of its own defeat.

Courage must bow to a stronger will
 Skill makes way for a greater skill.
 The records change and the records fall.

This alone is the chance of all
 So to live that the world may see
 Just what a champion ought to be.

With standards high, they must keep in mind
 The future champions just behind.
 With courage and grace they must play their part.

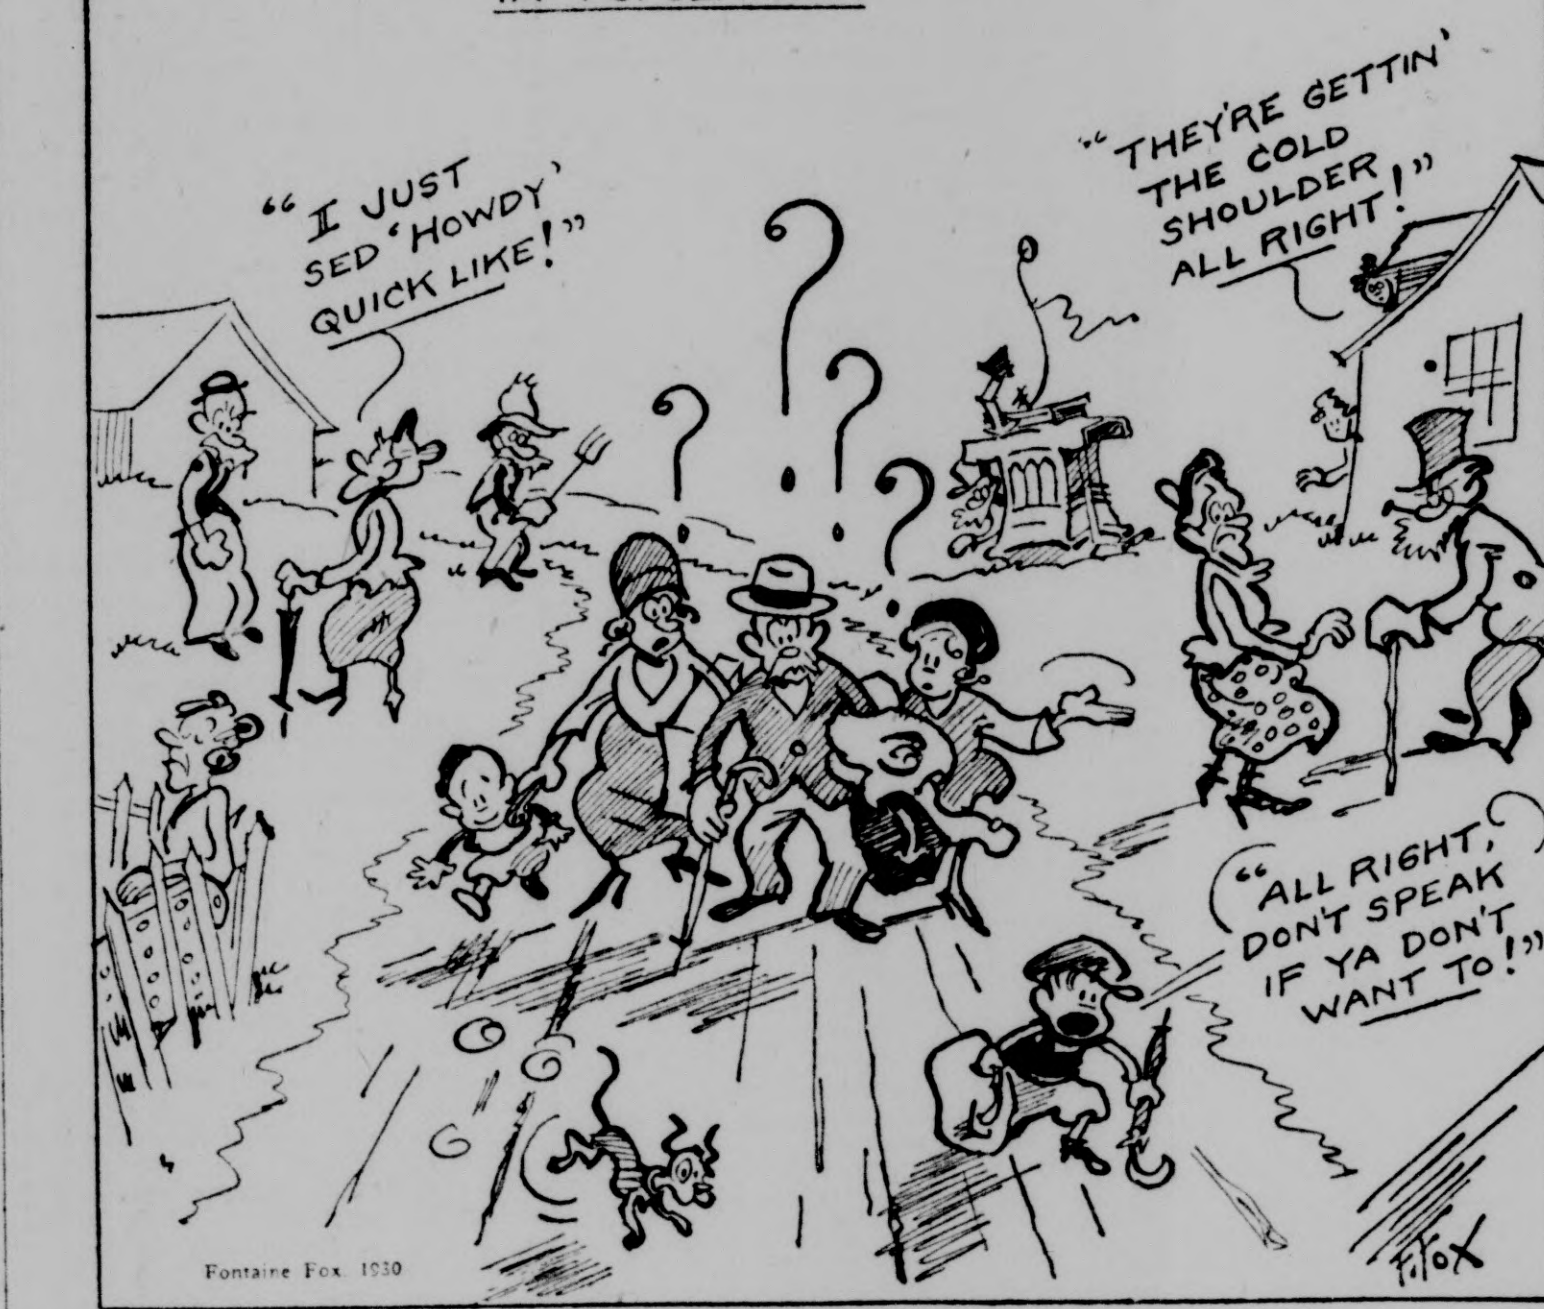

Match fighting strength with a fighting heart.
 They must teach those boys how to wear the crown
 And how, as men, they must hand it down.

Sun sets tonight 7:25. Sun rises tomorrow 4:30.

There are people who think they are very wise, but often when they are at a banquet they watch what kind of tools their neighbors eat with before they start moving back the grub. Wise there at that.

A lot of things are overdone and in the end it would have been better if they had not been done at all.

Men wearing trousers so wide at the bottom and equally roomy at other points are more concerned with sartorial perfection of the moment than they are with the grave problems, social, industrial and financial, confronting the state. Primary In Pennsylvania Viewed From Many Angles

Pinchot And Davis Believed By Large Part Of Public To Represent Commendable Public Service, While Dry Significance Is Debated

A victory for Pennsylvania's "independent and non-controlled" electorate is one of the outstanding opinions as to the result of the primaries which gave Gifford Pinchot another chance for governorship and made Secretary Davis a candidate for Senator from the Keystone State. Not everyone finds reason to praise the results and many differ as to the significance of the prohibition issue in connection with the vote.

"One might almost say that Pennsylvania wins," remarks the HOUSTON CHRONICLE calling Secretary Davis "a plain man of the people and honest," and describing Pinchot as "able, alert, honest and capable." The DULUTH HERALD avers that the "Republicans of Pennsylvania have chosen wisely, not only for their own sake but for the country's sake" while the SYRACUSE HERALD concludes that "one explanation of the apparent contradictions in the Keystone result lies in the fact that labor at both ends of the State threw its support to Davis and Pinchot."

"The feature of the election," according to the ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT, "was the strength indicated for Mr. Pinchot. Another feature that will interest many was the strength developed by avowed anti-prohibition candidates for Senator and Governor. But the greatest triumph of all was the returns indicating that the rejected Mr. Vane is still the cornerstone of Keystone State Republicanism."

"Former Governor Pinchot," declares the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "represents definitely the liberal element in the Republican party and the opposition to the organization, typified by the Philadelphia candidates." By a large board. On the subject of the prohibition issue, that paper advises: "It is sufficiently appealing to be a determining factor in many a political situation. But it does not follow necessarily that it can in itself dominate and control a State election." The BULLETIN also states: "By a large margin the winning candidates in the Senatorial and gubernatorial lists are aptly to be described as popular, liberal, non-organization appeals, and their endorsement, majority in one case, plurality in the other, is to be identified as the expression of an independent, non-controlled body of voters whose ultimate power is the most part latent because of lack of organization, but it dominating whenever a personality appears competent to marshal it under real leadership."

"Pennsylvania's auction-block system of disposing of high public office, by some termed a 'primary election' has been put to use again. Its chief result, as usual, proves that the primary is no place for a poor man," says the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL. That is was a fight of wealthy men is the comment of the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS, and the LITTLE ROCK ARKANSAS DEMOCRAT refers to the State's "golden primary."

The CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR feels that "conditions are very mixed in the greatest Republican State in the Union," and the ASBURY PARK PRESS thinks that "hundreds of thousands of Keystone State voters have proved that they are unbiased." The RALEIGH NEWS AND OBSERVER suggests: "Davis or Grundy? It's a mere toss-up. In the case of Pinchot it is a matter of observing that Lady Luck waves a freakish wand in politics sometimes—even in Philadelphia."

That Senator Grundy's defeat "will not be displeasing to the people of the backward State is the belief of the TEXARKANA GAZETTE, which also sees in the nomination of Pinchot evidence that "Pennsylvanians are tired of present-day politicians."

"Extremists on both sides of the prohibition question" says the PITTSBURGH POST-GAZETTE, will undoubtedly try to reach conclusions from the Pennsylvania figures which the facts do not warrant. The World AND THE Mud Puddles

MEXICANS LOVE MUSIC.

Harry Carr writes in the Los Angeles Times about the junk hunting tourists from the United States. He is the same in Mexico as he is in Europe.

"Tourists in Mexico go after junk with the same avidity that made the French remark sarcastically that America entered the World War to collect souvenirs."

"So far as I can see, all the women buy pottery and all the men buy revolver holsters, sword canes and Spanish shawls."

"Spanish shawls—now, as they always did—come from China. An old Chinese importer told one of my friends how to distinguish fakes from genuine. The test for the real silk is in the long fringe."

"You can break imitation silk fringe with a sharp snap of your fingers. Real silk would cut your fingers in two before breaking. Another test is a lighted match. If you light a match under a thread of imitation silk the fire will run up the thread. Real silk will burn through and the end will drop off."

"Unless we can get up another war, I don't know what the tourists are going to do with all the war-trail paraphernalia—especially the revolver holsters and cartridge belts. These are very elaborately embroidered and are worn by most high-toned Mexicans all of whom go armed, as a rule, of course."

Visitors could carry lighted cigarettes or cigars into the hangar because of the inflammable material in the hull of the dirigible.

The Graf Zeppelin will not remain long in her hanger at Friedrichshafen after her return to Germany for she has a busy summer schedule ahead, including three flights to the Arctic circle and trips to almost every part of Europe.

From July 8 to July 11, the dirigible is scheduled for a 48-hour northland cruise to Tromsø or the north cape at the extremity of Norway. One week later it is slated for another northland cruise of about 60 hours, probably to Spitzbergen, and seven days later a 60-hour voyage to Iceland is expected to be made.

Flights to the Baltic and Mediterranean sea are also planned, in addition to many short cruises.

A discouraged-looking peon in rags played a 'cello. The long spike at the bottom had been broken off, so he held it suspended by a string around his neck. They seemed miserably poor, and their clothes were patched and torn; but they played with feeling and ability."

This country is not interested merely in collecting duties on imported goods. It is vitally interested in developing the export of goods made here. We cannot consume all that we produce. What a Cast the old programs and the graveyards would produce. Scallchi, Neilson, Calve, Melba, Sembrich, Caruso, Tamagno.

For future generations, opera for the radio will be preserved on records, and the opera sung today may be heard by radio 500 years hence.

That will surpass the 500-year run of Euripides tragedy in Athens.

Russia's Government takes over the exploitation of gold fields in the Lena and Tahutsk regions.

Of all government enterprises, the hunt for gold would be least successful, probably.

The old prospector with his donkey, pack, pick and shovel plods on and on following a golden mirage, hoping always.

Counting the value of time and effort, more money has been put into gold mining than has ever been taken out.

It is not a job for government officials, but for those that prefer a life of hope and effort.

P. M. F. Seeking To Modernize State Gas Tax

Says Present System Of Collecting Tax Is Too Expensive And Cumbersome

CALIFORNIA IS CITED AS EXAMPLE

Wholesale Collection Plan Found Most Effective In 45 States Of Union

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 2.—Modernizing of the state's system of gasoline tax collection will be sought by the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, state unit of the American Automobile association, at the next session of the legislature, it was announced today.

"The present method of collecting gasoline tax from the retailer, rather than from the distributor, is both expensive and cumbersome," said S. Edward Gable, president of the federation, "and should be corrected as soon as possible. The commonwealth literally is throwing thousands of dollars away each year that the present system is in effect."

Mr. Gable set forth figures contained in a recent report of the United States Bureau of Public Roads showing that Pennsylvania paid 15 times as much in 1929 as did California, where wholesale collection is in effect, to get in practically the same amount of gasoline tax revenue. Levied on 1,139,736,244 gallons of fuel, which amounted to $34,192,067 net, the gasoline tax collection in California cost $3.56 under the wholesale plan, the federal report shows. The net collections in Pennsylvania for the same period were $35,757,816 on 1,047,914,175 gallons, at a cost of $145,625.

"These figures tell the story in a nutshell," said the federation head, "and greatly overbalance the few advantages to be found in the retail collection plan. Not only California has tried out the wholesale plan and found it to be cheaper and more effective, but it has been adopted in 44 other states, Pennsylvania being one of the very few still holding to the old system.

"The gasoline retailer, upon whom a bond is imposed by the commonwealth to insure payment of his tax, does not like the present plan and will be glad to get rid of it. To be sure, he gets a small commission for his services, but the average gasoline dispenser will be glad to forego that in order to be free of the troubles that go with the additional bookkeeping and other work necessary under the retail collection system."

"The state legislature in 1929 saw fit to continue the retail system, despite considerable sentiment in favor of the wholesale collection plan. Developments during the past year have brought about a decided change in opinion, however, and indications are that when a bill providing for collection of fuel tax at the source is introduced there will be sufficient support to bring about its passage."

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

(By Central Press)

NEW YORK, June 2.—Just what gangsters have on New York is evidenced by the fact that the late pioneer 15-cents-a-mile taximen turned in their cabs recently and called it a day.

They frankly confessed they were afraid they would be "put on the spot" by their rivals who charged higher rates.

Incidentally they let it be known that they were making $15 and $20 a day in tips alone, but that didn't compensate them for their hourly fear that every time they turned a corner a bullet might be waiting.

OBIT

There died here recently a woman who, in her day, had been one of the beauties of old Virginia, who had observed life and wrote about it and who had given the world "Children of Transgression", "Daughter of a Rebel" and "Life's Shop Window", two of them the most burning novels in their time. She was Mrs. G. Vere Tyler, novelist and essayist and daughter-in-law of the 10th President of the United States. It was H. L. Mencken who once returned a manuscript of Mrs. Tyler's with the following characteristic note:

"Take that couple out of the bedroom and put them on the fire escape."

SERVICE

The oldest employe in length of service has been found in William Creamer, veteran floor walker of the Arnold-Constable store, who has been with the store for 70 years, joining the organization 30 years after it was founded 100 years ago.

This became known when a little old lady of 80, Mrs. Leila Morse Rummel, daughter of Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, paid her respect to Creamer, who waited on her when she was a little girl.

CONSCIENCE

Mysterious gifts pour into the Conscience Fund of this city. It now has to its credit the largest amount in its history. New Yorkers who have repented of their sins are showering dollars into the till, and $2,062 has been received since January of the present year.

Duncan MacInnes has had charge of the fund for 33 years and says it existed 30 years before he took hold. The greatest windfall ever received was when someone slipped into the office and left two $1,000 bills lying on the desk. Another time he received a check for $3,751.75 from Santa Fe, N. M., and it cost the city $4.83 in telegrams to find it was bogus.

It seems New York has a conscience—but most of the time it is put away in camphor.

HAVE THEIR PLACE

Obscurity is not in the printed word, but in the mind of the reader. Mrs. Mary Ware Dennett, white-haired author of "The Sex Side of Life", told the New York Society for the Suppression of Vice.

"Suppression of Vice"—seems to me that has a familiar ring. I hear it echoing down through the ages from the time of that famous stoning event when the Nazarene said something about "he who is without sin."

Don't jump too hard on the poor old successors to Comstock—they're great advertisers for a book.

AFTERMATH

The practice of printing sensational stories about celebrities, who have figured in the news, after they are dead, is to have its test in court. Mrs. Julia Sullivan Eagles, mother of the late Jeanne Eagles, stage star, whose death attracted considerable attention, has applied to the court for an injunction restraining Liberty Magazine from printing a life story of the actress.

Five issues of the story are already on the press. It is said, and it will cost the publishers $1,000,000 if the suit is decided against them.

Jeanne Eagles lived her life and paid the penalty. It's not pleasant for a mother to see it all raked up after her daughters' death.

concerts, which is being sponsored by the New Castle Consistory, was presented.

Albert A. Taylor presented a well-balanced program of numbers on the Greek Memorial organ, which brought out the power and qualities of the big organ. He was assisted in the presentation of his numbers by the Consistory choir, directed by W. W. Campbell.

These concerts have been arranged in order to give local residents, an opportunity of enjoying the splendid gift of the late George Greer to the citizens of New Castle through the New Castle Consistory, and music lovers have shown their appreciation of this fact by their attendance at the two concerts already given.

Another is projected for the immediate future by officers of the Consistory.

New Circus Ground Appears Necessity

Menagerie Tent Not In Evidence At Circus Saturday Due To Lack Of Room

Apparently the day has arrived when a new circus lot will have to be used by circuses visiting New Castle.

The John Robinson circus which exhibited here on Saturday at the Cedar and Mahoning avenue lot, which has been used for some years past by such exhibitions, did not have any menagerie tent. Attaches of the circus said that there was not sufficient room on the plot to put up both the menagerie tent and the main circus tent, and hence the menagerie was missing.

Persons who attended the circus entered the main tent without any visit to the menagerie.

Circus lots apparently are destined to follow in the wake of the base ball grounds. Practically every base ball diamond that is large enough at the present time to offer a real playing field, outside of those at the schools, is to be found outside the city limits.

Red Cross Moving Offices Today

Will Be Located In Suite On East Street Beginning Tuesday Morning

Offices of the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, are being moved today to a suite of rooms in the same building with the Associated Charities and Lawrence County Tuberculosis Society at 8½ East street.

They will be open for business in their new location on Tuesday morning.

The change has been made to conform with the desire of officers of the New Castle Community Chest, under which body the Red Cross functions locally. It has been the aim of the Community Chest to have all the local welfare organizations grouped under one roof in order to effect economies in operation and consolidate the work.

The supposition is that the marriage on the baseball diamond was preceded by the traditional engagement token of a diamond ring.—The Lowell Evening Leader.

Expect Large Crowd To Attend Banquet

Christian Fellowship Banquet To Be Feature Of County Convention

The Christian Fellowship banquet to be held in connection with the 92nd convention of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, which is to be held at the Cathedral Thursday, June 19, will be a happy fellowship occasion and there will be representatives from practically every Sabbath school in the county as every school was given a quota.

There has been a number of queries as to how these tickets can be obtained, and for this reason the following information is given: The Sabbath school superintendent of every school has been sent the number to attend from his school. Some schools will wish to send their officers and teachers and take care of the expense which is a dollar per ticket. In such cases, the superintendent should send check to the county superintendent, Mrs. William J. Marshall, and the tickets will be forwarded. In some other cases the adult classes may wish to take care of the expense for the quota for their school. If, however, the individuals would prefer to take care of the expense for their ticket, the dollar can either be turned over to the superintendent or mailed to Mrs. Marshall, and ticket will be mailed in return.

Those attending the Christian Fellowship Banquet will have seats reserved for them at the evening session.

Plaingrove Juniors Honor Senior Class

Junior-Senior Banquet Of Plaingrove High School Is Pretty Affair

Junior-Senior banquet of the Plaingrove high school was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Patterson at Plaingrove, Friday evening. The dining room was prettily decorated in the senior colors, pink and green. A basket of honeysuckles formed the centerpiece at each table, with tall pink tapers at each end. The same colors were carried out in the favors.

The living room was decorated in blue and gold, the junior colors. Prof. Raney, principal of the school, acted as toast master in a very able manner. Miss Lillian Patterson, president of the junior class gave a short address of welcome, followed by a welcome song by the class. Toasts were given by Miss Twila Kimes and Clair Smith, members of the faculty, both of which were well received. The evening was spent in games and music. The hostess was assisted in serving by her daughter, Helen, her sister, Mrs. Arthur Armstrong, of New Castle and Mrs. Clarence Stevenson.

Italian Fliers Set New Record

Pair Of Italian Fliers Remain Aloft 67 Hours And 15 Minutes In Sustained Flight

(International News Service)

ROME, June 2.—Major Umberto Maddalena and Lieut. Fausto Cecconi today had established a new aviation record for sustained flight by remaining aloft 67 hours 15 minutes.

The previous record for sustained flight without refueling, was 65 hours 25 minutes made by Johan Ristke and Hans Zimmermann, German fliers, over Dessau in 1928.

The flight was made over a fixed course and the two men landed only after their fuel was exhausted.

Maddalena and Cecconi (CQ) hopped off at 5:32 a. m. Friday, and landed at 12:46 o'clock this morning, at Montecelio Air Field.

THE BIBLE AS GOOD WRITING

"That the Bible is the chief glory of English prose has never been denied—not even by those who do not accept the living faith set forth therein. The agnostic has its haunting rhythms by heart and at heart; having the beauty of holiness as well as the beauty of memorial, they insensibly persuade him to revere the Christian virtues, even though he rejects Christianity."

The foregoing is part of an able editorial in the London Morning Post. The Bible referred to is the old Authorized Version, translated by poets, and a thing of everlasting beauty. They are not simply old-fashioned folks who find no glory, no comfort, and no substance of faith in the new-fangled translations of the Bible into modern language. All who love art and beauty, do not wish to see this book written like a twentieth century novel or a magazine article.

East Brook Seniors At White House As Chief Executive Starts Out

Seeing President Herbert Hoover review the traditional "march past" parade of Civil War veterans in Washington, D. C., on Memorial Day, is the privilege which the sight-seeing group of East Brook high school seniors enjoyed, they informed The News by card today.

When the long line of marchers had passed, the seniors sauntered close to the White House grounds just in time to see the president kiss Mrs. Hoover good-bye as he left for his ride to Gettysburg.

Eighteen East Brook high graduates make up the party, which left here this morning following commencement exercises last week. They will return home shortly.

Checks for any amount may be sent to Chairman Meermans at the Y. M. C. A. and should be made out to D. D. Valensi, financial secretary, G. A. R. Encampment Committee.

Asks Council To Widen Street

Ordinance Widening North Street To Be Drafted By White

Council today passed a motion fathered by Councilman Clayton Reeves which instructed Solicitor Robert White to prepare an ordinance for the widening of North street between Neshannock avenue and Shenango street.

The motion was presented after Wyatt Campbell, representing property owners between East street and Neshannock avenue and county commissioners had asked council to arrange for the widening.

Councilman Burns said that the street cannot be repaved until the city actually has sufficient money to repave the section which was torn up last year.

Mayor Gillespie said that he believes the persons in favor of the requested widening should waive damages.

Councilman Treser said he would not stand in the way of the improvement "if those who want the widening are willing to pay for it."

The county commissioners maintained that a previous council had agreed to widen the street before the North street bridge was built.

Councilman Reeves introduced the motion after Louis Haug had stated that North street is not wide enough for business and traffic purposes.

Recently council repealed an ordinance which provided for widening of North street but passed an ordinance lowering sidewalks to grade.

Seek To Revise Copyright Laws

Rep. Albert Vestal, Indiana, Sponsors Bill For Copyright Law Change

NEW MEASURE IS VITALLY IMPORTANT

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News-Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 2.—American authors and composers today had won the first phase of a few years battle when Rep. Albert Vestal (R.) of Indiana announced he would introduce a new bill completely revising the copyright laws.

The new measure is declared of vital importance to the stage, motion picture industry and the new business of radio broadcasting.

Calling themselves poor politicians and bad business men, the authors and composers have been knocking and fussing for permission to introduce a bill for the removal of discriminations which they claim have existed since 1909.

Bitterly Fought.
Although Vestal declared the bill is satisfactory to 90 per cent of the leaders of the industries affected, some of its provisions have been bitterly fought by Broadway play producers on the ground it favors the motion picture industry.

The bill creates by law the divisible copyright—giving the author the right to sell to the stage producers stage rights, to the motion picture magnates the movie rights and to radio broadcasting company the radio rights.

Under present practices, according to vestal, authors sell a play outright to the Broadway producer under a trade practice agreement by which they get 50 per cent of the movie rights. William A. Brady, noted producer, has fought the bill as a blow to the stage.

The bill gives to composers the right to contract for sale of their works for photographic reproduction. Under present law, the composer is limited to two cents a record for his creation. Once he has permitted the use in this manner, Vestal said, any other company can use it at this price.

Re-arrange Damages
The bill also revises book, magazine and newspaper copyright laws. On provision extends the life of an author's copyright to 50 years after his death. The present law provides for a 28 year term, and allows it to be renewed for a similar period.

New provisions governing collecting of damages for copyright infringement was provided in the bill. Under the present law, according to vestal, an author can collect all profits from an infringement and damages as well.

Courts, however, he says, have been unwilling to give all this to an author in instances where a motion picture concern may have infringed and spent $250,000 producing the story. Under the new provision, the author would get damages and only so much of the profits as the court believes is just.

Auto Backs Into Child On Tricycle

Police Hear Of A Number Of Accidents On Streets Of City

Jack Porte of Laurel Boulevard, was backing out of his driveway on Sunday afternoon, not knowing that little Robert, three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Yost, of Park avenue, was riding his tricycle along the sidewalk at the driveway.

The result was that the little fellow was knocked from his tricycle and in under the car between the rear wheels. He was apparently uninjured and on being taken to his home was found to have escaped with a few minor bruises.

Other Accidents
William A. Barnhart of New Brighton, Pa., reported that he was going west on East Washington street at Lutton street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license going in the same direction ahead of the car of Mr. Barnhart, made a left hand turn into Lutton street without a signal and Mr. Barnhart's car ran into it, doing considerable damage to the Barnhart car.

Margaret Kane of 117 North Scott street, reported that she was driving east on Croton avenue, and making a right hand turn onto Crawford avenue, when at Cleveland avenue, on Crawford, a girl of about seven years of age ran out from the rear of a truck parked there and was hit and knocked down by her machine. The girl got up and ran away and she was unable to get her name or address. Apparently she was uninjured.

Harry Hewitt of 203 South Walnut street, reported that he was enroute east on Court street at East Washington street, when his machine was in a collision with the car of Frank Colao, 1029 South Mill street, which was going west.

Andrew Fusco, 1602 East Washington street, reported that he was driving east on East Washington street, just west of the Harmony tracks, when a car bearing an Ohio license pulled out suddenly from the curb where it had been parked and the machines came together. Both were damaged.

Market Today Is Quite Dull
No Decided Change In Stock Market Seen As Week-End Holiday Is Finished

By W. S. COUSINS
International News-Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, June 2.—Neither in the business outlook nor in the action of the stock market today was there any decided change from the dull and narrow movements of last week. The triple week-end holiday brought in practically nothing in the way of grist for the speculative mill and the professional traders again had the market to themselves. Stock sales up to the noon period totalled only 924,000 shares, a good half-hour's work for a busy market.

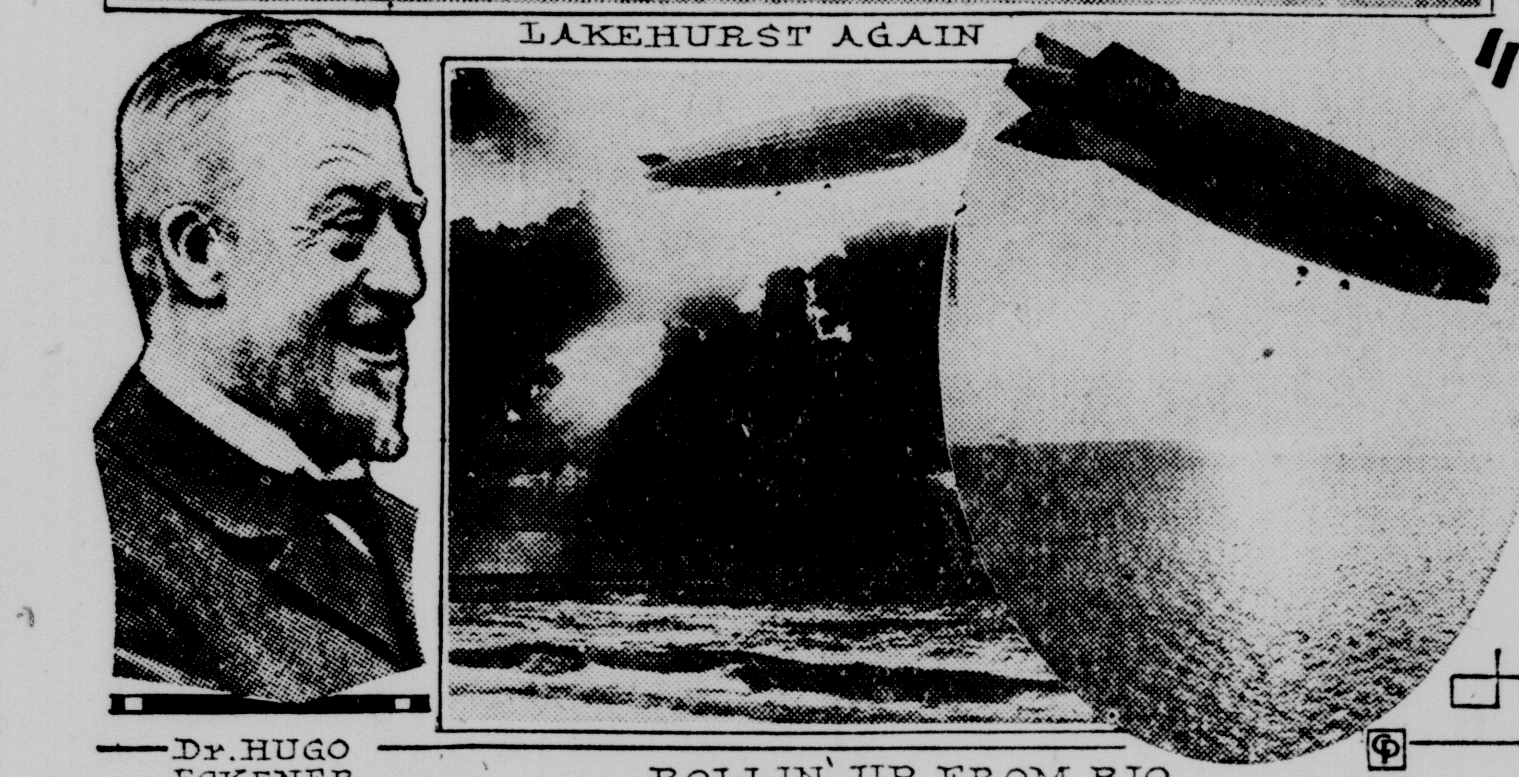

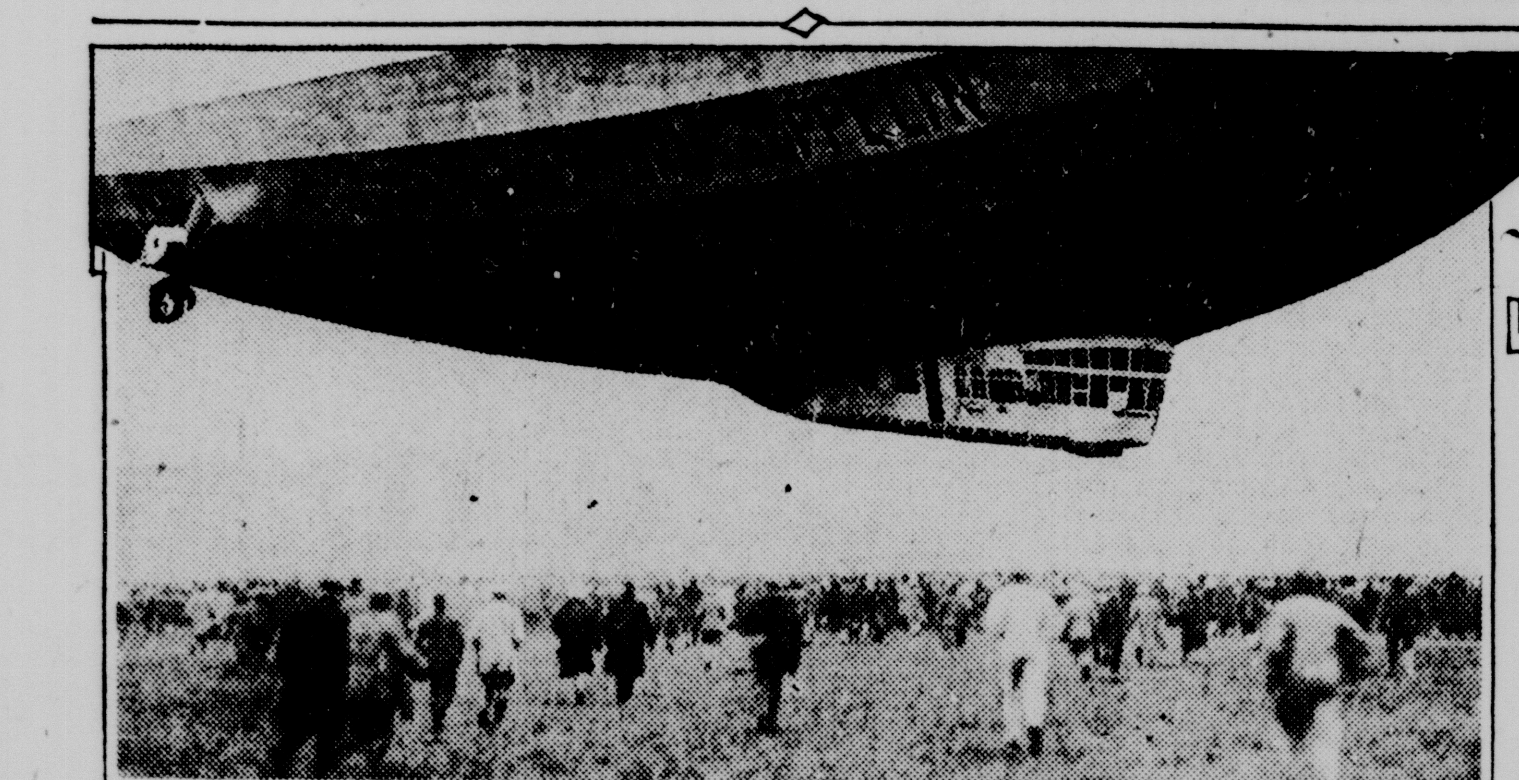

As expected, the copper companies which had not done so earlier in the year cut their dividends today. Kennecott placing the common on a $3 annual basis, Utah on an $8 basis and Nevada Consolidated on a $1.50 annual basis. The market was well prepared for these changes.

Julius Barnes, a spokesman for the president's prosperity committee, made an excellent survey of current and prospect business and industrial committees, and supplied the business community with important information, but no interest was shown in the stock market. Montgomery Ward's 2 1/2 point rise to 47 was the feature of the mercantiles, though good buying was in evidence in Kroger, First National Stores, Sears Roebuck and Woolworth.

HARRISBURG, June 2.—Approval of bond issues totaling $846,000 was announced today by the Department of Internal Affairs.

Issues approved included: Green township, Indiana, $80,000 for highways; Derry borough, Westmoreland, $40,000 for municipal building.

LAKEHURST MAKES READY FOR VISITOR FROM RIO

LAKEHURST AGAIN
ROLLIN' UP FROM RIO
Once again Lakehurst welcomes the Graf Zeppelin at the conclusion of her South American flight. Ground crews detailed to the New Jersey naval training station need little direction in walking the giant ship into the hangar since it is the fourth time the dirigible has been "docked" there. Photos show a closeup of the cabin, crowds surging to greet it, Dr. Hugo Eckener, its commander, and two magnificent views of the silver bag at sea.

Calahan To Speak On Sea Scouting

Former Chief Executive Here Coming Thursday For Three-Day Stay

ELLWOOD TALK IS SCHEDULED FIRST

Sea Scout Director J. Lee Calahan of Region Three, formerly chief executive here but now located at Philadelphia will arrive in New Castle some time Thursday for a three day visit during which the aims of sea scouting will be outlined at different sessions of county scout leaders.

Mr. Calahan is due to reach the city Thursday. That night he will go to Ellwood City where he will appear at a meeting of leaders there.

Troop committeemen and leaders of the Ellwood City district are urged to attend this session, which will take place at the Shelby auditorium at 7:45 o'clock, daylight savings time. This meeting will be preceded by a meeting of the district committee.

The former executive of the local council will also speak Friday night at a special meeting of the scout leaders' club and the leadership and training committee, which meets at scout headquarters at 8 o'clock that night.

While the Lawrence county council may not officially adopt sea scouting for some time, the visit of Mr. Calahan this week is nevertheless a significant one and may result in definite action.

Mr. Calahan was made regional director of sea scout activities early this year, being succeeded here by Herbert G. Horton, of Easton.

HARRISBURG, June 2.—General E. C. Shannon, Republican nominee for lieutenant-governor, today filed an expense account with the state bureau of elections showing a $200 contribution to the Davis-Brown campaign committee.

ONE PRESCRIPTION MADE FAMILY DOCTOR FAMOUS

Seldom has any single act been of greater benefit to mankind than that of Dr. Caldwell in 1885, when he wrote the prescription which has carried his fame to the four corners of the earth.

Over and over, Dr. Caldwell wrote the prescription as he found men, women and children suffering from those common symptoms of constipation, such as coated tongue, bad breath, headaches, gas, nausea, biliousness, no energy, lack of appetite, and similar things.

Demand for this prescription grew so fast, because of the pleasant, quick way it relieved such symptoms of constipation, that by 1888 Dr. Caldwell was forced to have it put up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is always ready at any drugstore.

Chicago Police Probe Outbreak Of Gang Warfare

Three Gangsters Killed, Two Wounded At Summer Resort—Body Found In Alley

FEUD FLARES UP AMONG GANGSTERS

"Bugs" Moran-Aiello Gang Blamed For Latest Massacre In Retaliation

(International News Service) CHICAGO, June 2.—Police investigating the new flare-up of a bitter warfare between the Alphonse Capone and the "Bugs" Moran gangs were confronted with fresh evidence of the feud today when the bullet-torn body of an unidentified gangster was found in a North Side Alley.

The new series of shootings, which police blame on the "last stand" battle of the Aiello-Moran gang against the encroachments of the Capone gang came to a climax yesterday when machine guns poured a volley of slugs into a group of Capone "muscle-men" as they sat at dinner in a summer hotel at Fox Lake, suburb, killing three and seriously wounding two others, one a woman.

The most recent victim was found today by a watchman. He had been dead about twelve hours. The man was shot five times. Twice in the left chest, once in the back of the head and once in the abdomen. A belt had been tied under his arms, evidently to permit the slayers to carry the body.

Three Are Killed
Detectives believe it was at the behest of the Moran clan that the firing squad stole up to the dining room of a quiet Fox Lake resort hotel yesterday morning, thrust the muzzles of their machine guns through the window panes and riddled their victims as they sat at the dinner table.

Those slain outright by the machine gun volley were Michael Quirk, gangster and extortionist; Sam Pellar, gangster and hoodlum; and Joseph Bertschke, "muscleman" and gangster recently released after serving a four year term in Cincinnati for mail robbery.

George Druggan, brother of the notorious Terry Druggan, was believed dying today, his body pierced by half a dozen bullets fired in the fusillade. The girl, wounded and near death, is Mrs. Vivian McGinnis who was named in a divorce suit recently as the "Rich Lady Bootlegger of Fox Lake."

Druggan, although believed dying, refused to tell police anything regarding the shooting. Neither would Mrs. McGinnis talk when questioned.

Police verified a report today that thirty members of the rival Moran gang had spent several days recently vacationing at a resort a mile and a half from the place where the Capone men were put on the "spot" yesterday.

Seniors To Receive Diplomas At Westminster College Today

(Inset) PRESIDENT WALLACE - ACADEMIC PROCESSION

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., June 2.—The seventy-fourth annual commencement exercises at Westminster College is a time of rejoicing for 105 seniors today as the college confers degrees on that number in the program starting at 2 o'clock in the local United Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Dr. J. L. Cotton, a graduate of Westminster in the class of 1885 and now professor of Hebrew in the Presbyterian Seminary at Louisville, Ky., will deliver the commencement address. Daylight Savings Time Is Now In Effect In This City

Although several thousand people went to work this morning an hour earlier than usual, they look none the worse for it and before the day is ended, they will all probably decide that Daylight Savings Time isn't so bad, even at that.

However, alarm clocks received some mighty black looks when they started their songs this morning. Everyone knew that the clocks were ticking—that they were an hour ahead of themselves. But there was nothing to do but obey the call and roll out.

A woman with a rather bewildered look on her face told the writer this morning that her husband went to work on slow time, that she worked in a downtown store on fast time, that her daughter went to school on slow time and that her son worked in the afternoon on fast time. She was trying to figure out their dinner hours.

But the first couple days are the hardest.

Someone complains that he had to stay up until midnight, Saturday night, to turn his clock ahead an hour, and then, when he awoke, Sunday morning, he had to turn it back an hour, to go to church! Local ministers, by the way, are not hysterically pleased over the fast time idea.

Union High School Baccalaureate At Downtown Church

Twenty-Four Graduates Hear Class Sermon At First Methodist Church

"Building an Honorable Career" was the subject of the stirring sermon which Dr. H. C. Weaver, pastor of the First Methodist church preached before the members of the Union Township high school graduating class, their parents and members of the congregation when the baccalaureate exercises for the school were held in the downtown church last night.

Twenty-four seniors, who comprise the class were seated in a special section in the auditorium.

Preceding the service was a brief organ recital. The choir sang a beautiful anthem, "Benedictus," and the "Gloria" during the service while a vocal solo was contributed by William Campbell.

Members of the class who attended were as follows: Josephine Abbott, Donald Allen, Martha Broschart, Lawrence Byler, Laura Caven, Anna Cifra, Michael Cifra, Robert Cowher, William Critchlow, Harry Davis, Pearl Faure, Harold Fleming, William Fraley, Dorothy Kelso, Isaac Lowery, Quincy McConaghy, Jr., Agnes Patton, Walter Reneker, Everson Robinson, Raymond Robinson, John Shaffer, Richard Wallace, Lynn White and Eleanor Winter.

Commencement exercises will occur at the Union high building on Thursday evening, June 5.

"At the Least Cost"

In the telephone industry "the least cost" means: Telephone rates low enough to make telephone service available to the largest number of people.

High enough so that workers and owners may be fairly compensated, and "to assure the continued financial integrity of the business."

Low enough so that the telephone service may continue to grow and thereby increase in value and usefulness to the user.

High enough so that today's service may be better than yesterday's, and tomorrow's service may be better than today's.

"The most service and the best at the least cost" is a fundamental in Bell System Policy.

This policy is evidenced by the maintenance of local service rates at a level which has permitted the most rapid growth in the history of the industry—in the face of increasing complexities which are inherent in a growing intercommunication service.

This policy is further evidenced by the very material reductions in out of town rates during the last four years.

Memorial For City Firemen

About Hundred Attend Services In Body At Central Presbyterian Church

ADDRESS IS MADE BY DR. WINGERD

Annual memorial service of the New Castle firemen was held on Sunday evening in the Central Presbyterian church on the public square.

The service was an impressive one. Approximately a hundred members of the department, including regular and volunteer firemen, attended the service in a body, headed by Fire Chief Charles Lynn, and occupied a reserved section in the center of the church.

In addition to special music by the church choir, a solo was contributed by Paul Welsh, choir leader, that was well received.

The memorial address on "The Philosophy of Fear and Trouble," was presented by Dr. C. B. Wingerd, pastor of the congregation, and was a fine tribute to the memory of the firemen on the roll of deceased as well as a graphic presentation of lessons to those who are living.

There are some 180 firemen on the memorial roll at the present time, being the record of all members of the fire department who have passed on since 1873. In the past year four members were added to the list, being as follows: Fred D. Pulford Jr. (Winnie) Schefenacker, William Crowe, and Clyde C. Fulkerson.

What is the origin of our common apple?

All varieties of the apple are derived from the crab-apple, which is found native in most parts of the world.

Where is the Meuse-Argonne memorial situated?

The Meuse-Argonne memorial, designed by John Russell Pope of New York, is being erected on the Hill of Montfaucon in the Meuse-Argonne cemetery near Romagne-sous-Montfaucon, about 25 miles northwest of Verdun. Due to subterranean passages under the foundations, work on the memorial has been delayed and it is not expected to be completed for some time. This burial ground is the largest of the eight A. E. F. burial grounds, as it contains the graves of 14,183 men.

How many men went on the Byrd expedition?

The Byrd expedition carried a complement of 55 men, 75 dogs and three airships. Four ships were required to move its personnel and equipment to New Zealand. Among the men taken were two Eskimos.

What is the principal mountain group in the state of New York?

The Adirondacks, covering an area of 5,000 square miles are the principal mountains of New York. The Catskills are much smaller in area than the Adirondacks, covering only 1,000 square miles.

What was the "whiskey rebellion"?

The "whiskey rebellion" was a direct outcome of the internal revenue tax imposed by the government on distilled spirits in 1792. It so aroused the ire and feelings of the people that in the summer of 1794, 7,000 insurgents gathered near Pittsburgh ready to put down the tax by armed force. Washington, who was president, called out the militia and put down the insurrection. He also pardoned all who had taken part in the uprising. This action of the government in putting down the uprising is considered one of the turning points in the nation's life, as it proved that the government was a reality of force and power.

Noted Negro Leader Speaks At Senior High Auditorium

Visit Proves Noteworthy Event For Colored People Of This City

Visit of Oscar DePriest, negro congressman from the first congressional district of Illinois, located in the city of Chicago, in this city Saturday night, proved an outstanding event in the history of the colored people of the city and the members of the Ever Ready Welfare Club, an organization of colored women devoted to welfare work among the people of their own race, may well feel elated over the fact that they were responsible for the visit of Congressman DePriest to this city. Mr. DePriest is the only member of his race to serve as a member of Congress since 1901.

There was a good crowd of interested people in attendance, including a number of visitors from Allquippa, Butler, Coraopolis, Beaver Falls, Youngstown, Farrell and other Falls.

Address of Congressman DePriest was devoted largely to a plea to the members of the colored race to seek higher ideals in the things of this life. He said, among other things, that the only way in which the members of the colored race would reach the height of their aspirations was to get together and present a united front against all obstacles.

In speaking of his political life he said that as a congressman he was not seeking to represent the colored race, but all the people of the country.

The program of the evening included brief addresses by the Hon. Fred L. Rentz and District Attorney John S. Powers, both of whom were heard with considerable interest by those present. The success of the affair was due to the efforts of Mrs. Lettie B. Williams and the committee assisting her, consisting of M. C. Tyler, Madele Clark, Lyndora Hays, Amy Morrison, Mary E. Eggleston and Ola Miller.

She wondered why he lost interest so quickly

...she never suspected "B.O." until—

SHE HAD to fight hard to keep back the tears. What was the matter? He had been devoted himself when they started out. Why was he so different now?

Their romance nearly went on the rocks. But fortunately her new sister-in-law gave her some helpful advice in time. Warned her about "B.O.", the polite name for a condition people dislike even to mention—body odor, a fault that will rob the prettiest girl of her charm. Told her the easy way to keep fresh and dainty even on the hottest, sultriest day.

And once she adopted a simple safeguard against offending, her sweetheart fell in love with her all over again.

Don't blame the weather—blame yourself!

Perspire more in Summer? Then be extra particular about washing and bathing often with Lifebuoy and you'll never offend. There's no excuse for even a hint of "B.O."—which others so quickly notice. Lifebuoy will safeguard us!

Lifebuoy's wonderfully refreshing, antiseptic lather—so copious and abundant even in hardest water—purifies pores, removes every trace of odor. It's pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you "Here's safety from 'B.O.'!" No wonder millions of particular men and women declare, "I couldn't do without Lifebuoy."

The finest of complexion soaps!

Committee On Air Mail Fund Will Meet Tuesday Eve

Hope To Have Money In Sight To Warrant Proceeding With Work On Project

Team captains and workers who volunteered to raise the $2,000 fund necessary to secure installation of the Adams air mail pick-up device will hold a report meeting in the city council chambers Tuesday evening, at which time it is hoped to have the fund raised.

Work of proceeding with the installation of the device has been held up awaiting the raising of the necessary money, and Chairman L. G. Greninger is asking all team captains and workers to put forth a special effort to secure the balance of the fund by tomorrow evening. Letters were mailed to all workers on Thursday asking them to see their prospects before Tuesday evening, so that a complete and final report could be made at this time. Beaver Falls, which organized a similar effort long after the work was gotten under way here, is making far better progress than New Castle in this matter.

Failure to raise the money will prevent New Castle from securing a place on the accredited U. S. post office air mail route, the lack of which will be a detriment to New Castle in the future, those backing the movement here assert.

Correct this sentence: "We buy the best stories and articles," said the editor, "and our magazines would sell just as well if we didn't print a single ad."

AMERICANISM: Possessing wit enough to know the water stops when you stop pumping, yet wondering why factories stop when you stop buying.

Legion Will Handle Headstone Claims For All Veterans

Commander Of Perry S. Gaston
Post States That Post Will Be Glad To Assist

"It was a surprise to me," said Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, commander of Perry S. Gaston post No. 343, American Legion, today, "in visiting various cemeteries here during the past few days, to see the great number of graves of veterans of all wars, which are without headstones.

"Every veteran's grave is entitled to a headstone and we of the American Legion would be glad to have relatives of all deceased veterans whose graves are without headstones bearing their name and service, make their claim at once.

"The Legion post here will be glad to handle the claims, which the county is required to honor and will do so in every case brought to the attention of the officers of the post.

"We hope to have this condition remedied by next Memorial Day, also to have new markers to replace many of those which have become rusted and unfit for use."

Swick Takes Up Barnyard Golf

Representative Of Local District
Numbered Among New Recruits To Game

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of
The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—Representative J. Howard Swick has gone in for pitching horse shoes, which pastime has become Capitol Hill's newest interest.

Congressman Swick, however, has not entered the congressional tournament, but is putting in appearances at the horse shoe "grounds" outside the capitol just for the game's own sake.

Last week, paired with his colleague Congressman Edward M. Beers of Mount Union, the congressman came up against Representative Guy Campbell of Crafton and Robert A. Green of Florida.

In retrospect, Congressman Swick feels quite certain he and Beers licked the Campbell-Green combination, but to preserve peace in congress, it was decided to call the match a draw.

A boob is one who pretends to believe something he doesn't believe to keep from being called a boob.

USED CAR VIEWS

"Not going out of business, but going after business," was a real idea. The way customers crowded into the used car lot and the new car salesrooms was a revelation. Evidently some of them really thought we were out. No such luck!

Besides being very much on the job, the new budget plan of financing used cars has proven highly successful. Many people are now happily driving cars on this new plan.

Shenango Motor company offers for today, a good Buick Coach with splendid finish, tires, motor in A1 condition and all for a little down and a little each week. There's a Willys Knight Coupe in surprising condition for only $5 down and a little each week. Think of it. For $5 you can be driving a car tomorrow! There are many others priced low; and on this same budget plan.

Among them are 1928-29 and 30 Ford Chevrolets, Oaklands, Dodges, Whipples, Packards, Lincolns, Studebakers and other popular makes. There may be yours for as little as $5 down and $5 per week. It's easy to buy a car this way. Shenango Motor company, 210 West Washington St.

VEEDOL

MOTOR OIL

MADE BY THE MAKERS OF TYDOL-ETHYL AND HI-TEST TYDOL (GREEN) GASOLINE

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A young lady from Charleston, Mass., says that a girl never can make a man happy. She married and a week later her husband walked out, saying he was tired of married life. After two weeks away from her, he wants to come back and she says it will be the same thing over again as she doesn't think she should "take him back." Her comment closing the letter is this:

"I am only one of the many who have been left, and I think anyone who gets married these days is unbalanced and needs to go up for a few days for observation." She signed herself, "Jilted Bride."

I'd like to know the age of the bridegroom. He sounds distinctly low, but that doesn't mean he can't be jerked into line by a tactful woman. Not that a bride relishes the idea of jerking a man into line, especially one she married in good faith, who walked out on her. But life is so full of compromise and Robert Louis Stevenson says "I'm always quoting every thing, is a green hand in life." The thing to consider is the girl's future happiness.

What he did wasn't right. I'm not excusing him. But you are married to him. Maybe if you take him back and forget this thing (don't forgive and then keep bringing it up) he will turn out to be an ideal husband and you will be very glad that you did it.

Will forgive him and not wreck your lives on this mistake. Perhaps later you will do something quite as inexcusable, and you will want him to forget it. You will feel pretty close and dear to him if he does it. It's things like that, mistakes and the forgiving of them, that draw people very close together and make them very happy. It's so much easier to forgive than to be the offender.

There wasn't any other woman, was there? He sounds so young, and youth does such unexplainable things. There's nothing the matter with marriage, my dear, but it requires a lot of training in selfishness, and if you don't have it before marriage you have to get it afterward or you can't have a happy home.

Don't take it for granted that the offense is going to be repeated. If you do that it will be. Make up your mind it will not be, and if he loves you he will try to live up to that opinion of him.

I do hope your home won't be ruined. You are confronted with a magnificent chance to be an ever bigger, finer woman than he thought when he asked you to be his wife. Don't weaken.

She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat In 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote—"My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years." Here is the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—do not overeat—walk a little each day.

Be sure and do this every morning for 27 days the little daily dose that takes off the fat—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fiber of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

Wife Causes Her Husband's Arrest For Abandonment

New York Woman Tired Of Waiting For Police To Act, Goes And Gets Her Man

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 2.—Harry Thurston, late of New York, was to be arraigned in morals court today because his wife, Mrs. Helen Ryan Thurston, got tired of waiting for police to nab her man and traveled from New York to Pittsburgh to do the job herself.

Mrs. Thurston, an attractive little woman endowed with a good bit of Irish tenacity, sent a warrant here two months ago asking for the arrest of her husband on a charge of abandoning her and the couple's three children.

She waited for two months and heard nothing.

So, she came to Pittsburgh. Eight hours later Thurston was under arrest.

His wife spied him Thursday as he walked along the street here. She called a policeman and Thurston's arrest followed.

"I knew I'd land him, if I did have to leave New York to do it," Mrs. Thurston declared today. "I came from a family of 'coppers' you know. Three of my closest relatives occupy positions of honor on the Boston force."

SHERIFF HALTS RACING OF DOGS

BELLAIRE, O., June 2.—Indications today are that no more dog racing will be attempted at the Riverview Track here as a result of the threat of Sheriff Ford Moore, after two races had been run last night, to seize the dogs if any attempt is made to sell pari-mutuel racing tickets.

The sheriff's threat to seize the dogs holds good, he says, until next Friday, when the manager, Andy Vusky, is to be arraigned with Wilbert Knox and C. Lopeman, the latter an attorney here, on charges of violating the Ohio gambling laws.

Knox and Lopeman were selling betting tickets, it is charged.

Many Homeless In Fire At Clairton

(International News Service)

CLAIRTON, Pa., June 2.—One man is near death in McKeesport hospital and several families were made homeless early today when fire swept through a business and residential building here causing damage estimated at $9,000.

John Estoto, 45, was found unconscious and badly burned in the rear of the first floor of the building. He was taken to the hospital where attaches said he may die.

Origin of the fire was not determined.

State Takes Over Bridges On State Highway System

At midnight on May 31, the state took over approximately 2100 county bridges on state highways, carrying out the provisions of the Gellert act of 1929. The act called for the state's taking over at its option for one year, what county bridges it deemed necessary, but made it compulsory that all county bridges on state highways should be taken over by the state before June 1, 1930. This applies to every county in the state except Philadelphia.

All county bridges on state highways in Lawrence County outside of the city of New Castle are now operated and maintained by the state.

Pentecost Will Be Observed June 8

All Churches Of City Working Toward A Perfect Attendance At All Services

All the churches of New Castle are uniting to observe Pentecost Sunday in a way worthy of the greatness of the day. Every church in the city is making a special effort to have a full attendance of its members at the morning service and are urging as many as possible to attend the big union service at the Cathedral in the evening.

The plans being made around the city for this great celebration comprehend the greatest concerted testimonial of loyalty and faith that has ever been planned in the history of the church.

We as a people have had some great assemblages of a religious nature, running into the tens of thousands and this present plan is built with a view of near six millions participating, and many other millions receiving inspiration and instruction.

Glass Bottle Plant Destroyed By Fire

Loss in the spectacular explosions and fire that destroyed the Marienville Glass Bottle Plant here yesterday was estimated at $175,000 today.

The factory had been closed over Memorial Day. Saturday night, gas was turned on in the plant to heat the lens, used to melt glass, the series of explosions followed then the gas failed to ignite.

Officials of the Knox Glass company, owners of the plant, said a new plant probably would be erected in the near future.

McBRIDE SAYS BROTHER IS ILL

Points To Breakdown In Denying Charges Made In Letter

DES MOINES, Ia., June 2.—P. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League issued a statement here saying his brother Emmett is "practically an invalid" and often is "irresponsible."

The statement was McBride's defense of charges contained in a letter written by Emmett to Congressman LaGuardia in which the Anti-Saloon League leader was charged with receiving unreported contributions.

McBride's statement said: "Mr. LaGuardia has released a letter purporting to be from my brother Emmett and containing derogatory statements against my brother, D. L. McBride, the Anti-Saloon League and myself."

"Since his severe breakdown some 22 years ago my brother Emmett has been practically an invalid, apparently regaining his health at times, only to become again irresponsible, a fact which can be easily verified by any well-known to the family and friends."

"This recurring condition which I mention in all kindness and with keenest regret is the explanation of his letter. The charges it contains are absolutely false."

Cubs Winning Despite Jinx

Chicago Cubs Have Had Misfortunes Galore But Keep On Winning Stride

DODGERS REMAIN AS LEAGUE TOPPERS

By HARRY McLEMORE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 2.—If owner Wrigley is sincere in his desire to see his Cubs repeat in the National League he would be wise to introduce a nice, gentle, but fatal plague to his boys. Then, if any of the lads showed signs of health after the scourge, he might guarantee the teams finishing in front by tapping the healthy ones on the head with a nearby bat.

For the Cubs, it seems, thrive on adversity and its by-products. Hardly able to put a nine-man team on the field during the earlier part of the season due to injuries, the Cubs kept plugging away. Then came Hal Carlson's unexpected death. Then, a day or so later, Rogers Hornsby bashed a leg. Did the Cubs fold up, as was expected? Hardly. Today finds them in second place thanks to a 16 to 4 win over the Pirates yesterday. Guy Bush did what little pitching was needed behind such hitting as the Cubs cut loose. Hack Wilson had a busy day, getting a single, double and two home runs, his fifteenth and sixteenth of the year.

Brooklyn remained firmly on top of the heap by drubbing the Phillies, 10 to 2. Frederick and Herman hit a couple of home runs apiece. Bissone also hit for the circuit. Luque was the winning pitcher, Sweetland the losing one.

The Giants amazed John McGraw by whipping the Braves twice, 9 to 4 and 16 to 3. Many of the 45,000 customers who packed Braves' field departed after the third inning of the second game—an inning which saw the Giants chase twelve runs across. Socks Seibald, ace of the Braves staff, was chased off the mound in the third inning. It was the third time this year Socks was forced to retire under fire. Walter Berger got a homer in each game.

Led by Harry Heilmann, who got six out of six including two home runs, the Reds took a couple from the slipping Cards, 5-4, 7-1.

The American League also saw its first division changes. Philadelphia whipped Washington 9 to 6 to take the lead while the Indians scalped Detroit 3 to 2 to move into third position.

The A's win their fourth straight over the Senators. Grove, who believed Young Maffey, struck out pinch hitters Hayes with the bases filled in the ninth. Sad Sam Jones, who started on the mound for Washington, suffered his first defeat of the year.

Cleveland won because Harder and Hudlin bested Uhl in a pitchers' battle. Despite Ruth's sixteen home runs, the Red Sox turned back the Yankees 7 to 4. The win ended Boston's losing streak of fourteen straight. The Sox executed a triple play in the fourth inning when, with Dickey on second and Cooke on first, Reese lined a fast one to Todd. Todd promptly stepped on first and whipped to Rhyme to double Dickey at second.

The White Sox, aided by the home runs of Reynolds, Harris and Jolley, whipped the Browns 8 to 5. Waller Stewart, trying for his eighth win of the season, was knocked out of the box in the third frame by a flurry of Sox hits.

The old boy who once was too courteous to drink first was too courteous to wait and see the effect on the other fellow.

Doubtless that machine made to record a man's lies is something like the score card used by golfers.

Henri Cochet Defeats Tilden After Hard Match—Helen Wills Moody Wins

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, June 2.—Big Bill Tilden today felt the sting of a defeat doubly sharp after he had given his conqueror, Henri Cochet, French tennis as its closest match in three years, in the finals of the French hard court tennis championships at Roland Garros stadium here.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody won the women's championship, easily defeating her sister Californian, Miss Helen Jacobs, 6-2, 6-1. She has won this three years in a row.

Tilden played great tennis, but his team was not great enough to beat Cochet. In a four-set final, the French net flash sent Tilden down 3-6, 8-6, 6-3, 6-1.

The battle between the lanky Philadelphian, who for the fourth time had arrived on the threshold of the championship, and Cochet drew by far the most interest and the gates of the stadium had to be closed.

Tilden's slashing service was never working better and he waded through the first set and was in the lead 5-3 in the second before Cochet took command.

By the end of the second set, the strain began to tell on Tilden and the increasing aggressiveness of Cochet's play told on the American player.

Tilden's timing went back on him and he made 27 errors in the last seven games.

Commissioners of the City-County Baseball League have two protests to be considered as soon as possible.

A meeting of the commissioners will be held as soon as possible to consider the complaints made by teams of the league.

Commissioners J. Jones, Miz Dart and Conrad Houk are requested to get in touch with H. K. Bell at the News Office as soon as possible, so that a date for the consideration of the protests now before the commission may be selected.

Three employees of the Post Office on Saturday afternoon spent considerable time placing the horseshoe pitching court of the office in first class condition for the coming summer season.

The court was improved in the latest and most satisfactory manner and indications are that it will be the scene of many real spirited horseshoe pitching contests during the coming summer and fall.

Scott And Goodman Await Bell Tonight

Lightweight Who Recently Fought Sid Terris To Take Pisano's Place Tonight; Pisano Taken Ill Sunday; Expect Big Crowd To Witness Show Which Begins At Nine P. M., D. S. T.

Harry Scott, Atlantic City lightweight who fought a hot 10 round bout less than two weeks ago with Sid Terris at the Olympic club in New York will fight Joey Goodman of Cleveland tonight in the 10 round feature bout at the Jolly bowl.

Scott was selected to take Augie Pisano's place when Augie telephoned last night from New York that he had been taken ill, forced into bed and his physician ordered him to not go through with the bout here.

As Sid Terris is one of the outstanding lightweight stars of the country and recently fought Jimmy McLarnin in New York the fans can readily see that Scott being able to go 10 rounds with him has lots of stuff.

In offering to bring Scott to take Pisano's place, Bobby North, manager of the latter said during his telephonic conversation, "His good fight with Sid Terris is not his only achievement."

"He defeated Eddie Reed three times and Reed is the boy who floored Maxie Strub several times and beat him at Erie. Scott fought a draw with Benny Bass and holds a knock-out over Johnny Jadick of Philadelphia."

"Scott has defeated Phil Goldstein who fought in New Castle and recently appeared twice in Madison Square Garden. He fought Willie Siegal and Jimmy McNamara in the garden and beat Bobby Mays later."

Rather than disappoint the crowd of fans which want to see Goodman in action and realizing that Scott is rated as high if not higher than Pisano the colored boy was booked and jumped at the chance to fight Goodman.

So tonight fistic fans who travel to the bowl will see a new face, an eastern boy who according to North (manager of Pisano) makes a good showing wherever he pleases and the fans are set for the show at nine p. m. D. S. T.

The six round semi-final will see the return to the ring of Tom McCafferty of New Castle against Joe Edwards formerly of Buffalo, now of Cleveland. Jimmie Dime says he has Tom hitting stronger than ever.

There is one fact about Tom and that is courage. He has never yet been forced to back up and Friday, during a workout said that he would make Edwards back up or someone would be knocked out. They will weight 158 pounds.

Arnold Tackles Keller
Tommy Arnold, the southpaw, will tackle Mike Keller of Cleveland in another six round bout. Keller has never fought here but will have experience on Arnold. Tommy's southpaw style may bother the Cleveland lad quite a lot.

They are scheduled to weight 141 pounds and before they climb into the ring two local lightweights, who fought a hard battle several weeks ago will open the show. They are Billy Frenzel and Tony Brush.

Frenzel comes from the South Side and will have quite a following at the ring but Bush's delegation from Oakland will root for their favorite. The first bout will start at nine o'clock daylight savings time.

FROM TEE TO GREEN

By ROY GROVE
Central Press Golf Writer.

The drive is the easiest shot in the bag but the average golfer makes all the work he can out of the shot.

If you were to stand upon the tee and relax and just take a whiff at the ball you will probably get the best drive you have ever had, but the temptation is too great to slug.

In the slugging the golfer is mentally handicapped, first of all, and secondly he hits the ball on the "backswing" in a hurried effort to slam into the shot.

Note the position of Bobby Jones as he starts the club back. This is most important to the hitting. The left arm is stiff and controlled, and the left foot is lifted only a trifle and the right shoulder is coming around. Note how the right arm is in very close to the body.

The professional who hits the ball hard is always very sure that he does not hurry on the way back with the club. To speed up his driver would only throw him off balance; his timing and control would be lost. Don't forget, the harder he hits, the slower and more sure he is of the backswing.

Regardless of how far the green or how inviting the fairway may seem, to give it a good stiff poke, ease up; and the more inviting, the easier. Ease up and see to it that your weight is on the left foot when you finish. Finishing on the left foot puts the weight into the ball.

A Police "Mistake" That Wasn't A Mistake

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, June 2.—When police make mistakes, they usually apologize handsomely.

They made a mistake in the case of Ben Budney—and promptly sent Ben before a magistrate who fined him $100 with the option of serving a 60-day workhouse sentence.

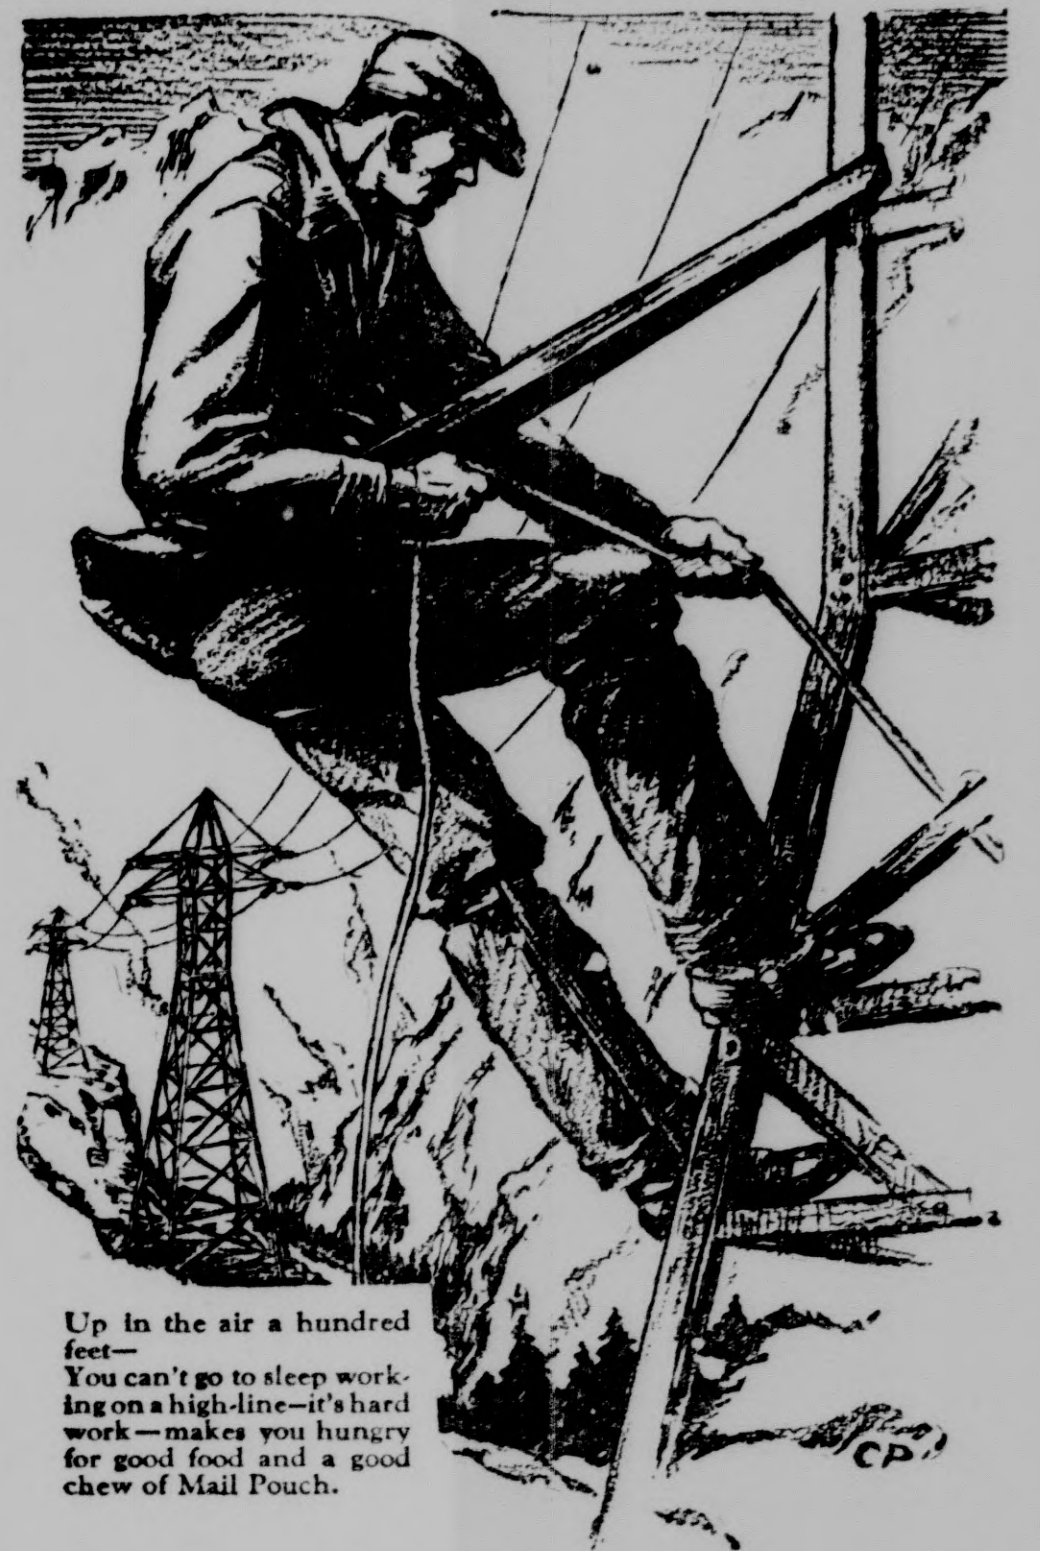

It all came about when a man was injured in an automobile accident and was brought to a hospital. Police, looking for the man's home, stopped at Budney's home by mistake.

They saw Mrs. Budney pouring moonshine into a sink, they said.

"Nervous System" Guards Against Fire

(International News Service) AKRON, O., June 2.—A "nervous system" consisting of thousands of feet of protective water sprinkler pipe is being installed in a new department store building which is being constructed here by the A. Polsky company.

Every man who works knows this is true

When a man works hard all day you only get his goat if you give him dolled up food—or a dolled up chew. He is hungry. He wants real food that he can sink his teeth into. And a chew of real tobacco.

That's why Mail Pouch is growing in popularity every day. It is all real tobacco. And all good tobacco—the best that grows. A special Mail Pouch process brings out the true tobacco flavor.

A little chew of Mail Pouch goes a long way. The flavor lasts because it's put in the leaf by nature. And because it is not all padded with sweetening and artificial flavoring you can chew it without fear of indigestion or heartburn.

Legion Head Urges "Law And Order" FILES SUIT TO COLLECT BALANCE

(International News Service) EAST LIVERPOOL, O., June 2.—O. L. Bodenhamer, National Commander of the American Legion, sounded an appeal for "law and order" at a banquet attended by 300 legionnaires and their wives here.

"We are spending too much time and money punishing crime, instead of preventing it," Bodenhamer said. "We should center our attention on the home and school instead of the jail and penitentiary."

Many Pension Bills Presented

Swick Introduces Measure
For Relief Of Civil War
Veteran's Widow

Submits Petitions Asking
Pensions For Spanish War Vets Under Vetoed Bill

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of
The New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2.—A pension increase bill in behalf of Mrs. Ray A. Walters of 807 Center avenue, Butler, has been introduced in the house by Congressman J. Howard Swick.

Mrs. Walters, who is the widow of John Walters of Company A, Sixth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry in the Civil war, would have her government compensation increased from $40 to $50 per month under the Swick bill.

Representative Swick also submitted two petitions urging increased pensions for Spanish-American war veterans, from Theodore D. Crouse and 11 citizens of Butler, and N. A. Yoho and 60 residents of Ellwood City. It is interesting to note in this case that President Hoover has just returned the Spanish-American increase bill to congress with his veto, but it is probable that the bill will become law over the presidential disapproval. Similar petitions, these however urging increased compensation for Civil war veterans, were received from Richard Logan of 1710 Hamilton avenue, New Castle, and 40 other residents of the city and vicinity, and Ulysses Veney and 60 others of Beaver Falls were likewise presented by Swick to congress.

Drivers Exonerated By Coroner's Jury

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., June 2.—A coroner's jury found that the evidence presented at an inquest into the death of Alonzo J. Gardner, 51, of near New Virginia, was insufficient to warrant the placing of charges against or revocation of driver's licenses of W. J. Wagner, R. D. 9, Mercer, and Robert C. Campbell of Sharon, whose cars collided in passing a potato planter on which Gardner was riding near Keel Ridge. Coroner William J. McGrath conducted the inquest.

It was suggested, however, that Wagner, who is afflicted with rheumatism, refrain from driving a car while thus afflicted.

Gardner was killed when he was thrown from his potato planter, which was struck by Wagner's machine, after it collided with Campbell's car. Funeral services were held from his home yesterday afternoon with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Where to go this summer isn't hard to determine, if you believe the booklets which are now being sent to you and me and the rest of us. The Canadian Rockies, the Southwest, Bermuda, Nova Scotia, California, Europe all of them "just the place" and all of them backed by some highly colored literature that makes you drop your tools and begin checking up your bank accounts.

Just got a dandy from an association which is committed to the high purpose of seeing that newspaper men have a good time. This outfit takes a hard working newspaper man across the pond, shows him everything there is to see and gets him back to the states in a trifle over sixty days.

Edinburgh, London, Paris Versailles, Dijon, Geneva, Munich, Venice, Rome, Lucerne, Naples, Nice, these are but a few of the places to be visited and the booklet breaks out in a rash of adjectives describing them. Just too lovely for words, but they forget to say what a newspaper man is supposed to use for money.

It seems that Europe is just honing to have us drop over for tea. The mountain peaks are all dusted off, the ocean waves have been smoothed out, and they even have traffic lights for Americans doing the boulevards. Hi ho, what a time they promise you.

Once on the sucker list, you never get off. Another highly descriptive folder asks the question, "why not learn to fly during your vacation?" I give up, why not?

This outfit takes you during your vacation time and for a price turns you out a regular Lindbergh or Chamberlain in two weeks time. The theory is that once you learn to fly you will buy a plane. And I've been wondering what the boss would say if I happened to make a three point landing on the roof of the News building some morning.

No, that seems to be out, as a vacation diversion. That also costs important sugar, and is no way to spend a vacation.

The only folder received this year that got even a second look was the annual announcement from Eaglesmere, Pa., up in Sullivan County where they have nothing to offer but scenery, fresh air, good food and quiet. This plus golf, tennis and swimming. Spending a couple of weeks up in that country seems to me to be as good as going west or to Europe. And nothing nearly so expensive.

Sharpsville Family

To Move Here

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., June 2.—Walter T. Boyd, Ridge avenue, has purchased the Love dairy and pasturing plant, New Castle, and will move his family to that city. He will be assisted in the business by his sons, Findley and Harry.

Deacle, Injured Titan Star, Shows Improvement

DEACLE - FULLBACK

Robert Deacle, Sharpsville, Westminister freshman athletic star injured in an automobile accident late Friday night, is improving according to officials at the Jameson Memorial hospital. Visitors are not allowed to see Deacle because doctors have ordered complete rest and quiet in order that he recover from the effects of the fractured skull and the operation performed in order to save his life.

Deacle made a name for himself this year at Westminster. Entering college last September with no backfield experience in football, having been a lineman for four years at Sharpsville high school, Deacle was primed for the fullback berth and made good in that position.

When track season opened, Deacle became the outstanding shot and discuss entrant for the Titans. Although he had never put the 16-pound shot before, since high schools use a 12-pound weight, he soon got the knack of tossing the heavier sphere and won first in every meet this season. He scored a total of 31 points in four meets during the season.

On Friday Deacle won two gold medals at the Tri-State Conference meet for firsts in the shot put and the discuss throw. He was at the theater and at Cascade Park in New Castle following this meet that evening. When he and some teammates were going back to New Wilmington they figured in the auto accident, between New Castle and the college town.
